Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

Applicant's amendment filed on 8/03/06 has been received. Claims 1-6 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hosogai (U.S. 6,182,296). Hosogai discloses a reversible denim jacket 50 having a front surface that covers the wearer's torso when worn. The jacket is made out of a conventional denim fabric (Column 4, 49). The jacket having sleeves of a predetermined length comprises a pair of exterior jacket pocket pouches 52, which are superimposed over a pair of interior jacket pocket pouches 60 (Figures 5 and 7). The pockets are sewn directly to the exterior and interior surfaces 140 and 150 of the jacket respectively (Column 4, 52-53, 60-61). The jacket would be capable of being worn as a shirt, since a shirt and a jacket have the same body structure.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hosogai (U.S. 6,182,296). Hosogai discloses the invention substantially as applied in claims 1-5 above. However, Hosogai is missing an outside panel with a metallic piece. Hosogai shows a jacket 50 having exterior panels/pockets 52 that overlie interior pockets 60. The exterior panels/pockets have buttons 100 for securing the pockets (Figure 5). It is well known in the art that buttons are commonly formed from metal. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used metal buttons so as to provide the pockets with a reliable means of closure.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 8/03/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant submits that Hosogai does not teach a garment, specifically a shirt, wherein the interior pocket is reinforced to the garment with an outside panel. The device of Hosogai shows a garment having the same body structure as a shirt. It is noted that the applicant's specification reads "this invention relates to the construction of a pocket for garments such as shirts, pants, sweaters, shorts..."(Page 1, paragraph 2).

The device of Hosogai is capable of being worn as a shirt. The garment of Hosogai teaches a jacket having sleeves of a predetermined length comprising a pair of exterior jacket pocket pouches 52, which are superimposed over a pair of interior jacket pocket pouches 60 (Figures 5 and 7). The pockets are sewn directly to the exterior and interior surfaces 140 and 150 of the jacket respectively (Column 4, 52-53, 60-61). Since the pockets are sewn directly, the threads would penetrate the outside panel, front panel, and pocket. When interpreted in the broadest possible sense, the structure of Hosogai meets all of the claim limitations presented by applicant.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
